The graphics illustrated above is that of a Branchline HO scale undecorated 10-1-2 sleeper with a few graphics art touch-up features added; and, Donnie Dixon's SR Passenger Car Lettering Graphics super-imposed into the drawing to show lettering size, color and location. Prior to the Pullman divestiture, Pullman owned sleepers were lettered with 7 inch roman "PULLMAN", with 4.5 inch car names. Pullman lettering was imitation gold (yellow) paint. After the Pullman divestiture, Southern applied its own 7 inch Block Letterboard and 5 inch car name, with 3 inch smaller Pullman lettering on each end of the car in the upper letterboard as shown. SR lettering was also imitation gold paint.
